ABOUT ME

Motivated and experienced developer looking to resume my career following a layoff from my previous web role, in which I was the senior member in a team of three. Duties included all aspects of building and launching websites, communicating with clients, and providing co-workers with technical assistance.

I specialize in Wordpress and Javascript development, with a secondary focus on graphic design. I am keen to continue learning and expand my existing skillset, with a particular interest in After Effects, Python and React in that regard.

Outside of work I enjoy rock music and festivals, cycling, gaming and building computers.
